

WEEK 3

As always it has been a busy week at the Academy, hasn't the weather been changeable too?! The seasons seem to be merging nowadays! One thing that hasn't changed this week and won't for the remainder of the Academic Year is our expectations around inform and equipment. These things are a really important part of school life at Joseph Leckie Academy to ensure, we are fully prepared for the school day and ready to learn.

Please remember uniform and equipment checks will be taking place in form time, alongside the usual form time activities! This includes your lanyard and ID Badge!

EXTRA CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

Did you see the House bulletin this week? This week has seen the start of some of extra-curricular offerings and it's good to see some of our students being so active! If you are unsure of the extra-curricular timetable, please see your Form Tutor or Head of House! Keep your eyes peeled for more information! We actually have some new Heads of House to introduce you to this year, look out for them in assemblies soon!

CLASS CHARTS

We have had another really positive week in school with lots of positive behaviour points dished out! A huge round of applause to 7NA who have earned the title Form of the Week with a huge 602 points! Year 7 also take the crown for Year Group of the week – start as you mean to go on Year 7! Perseus are currently still out in front for positive behaviour but it really is a close call!! Keep going Orion, Zodiac and Hercules!

LOOKING AHEAD

We've been talking to students this week about democracy this week which has tied in perfectly with our Academy Council elections which took place this week and once again we're looking like having well over 150 representing the council, made up of form representatives, House Captains, sixth form leadership and well-being ambassadors.

We've also appointed our Sixth Form Head Boy and Girl this week to head up the student leadership team. Congratulations to Harshdeep and Vinan on their appointment. They will now begin the development of the sixth form leadership team with the other applicants for Head Boy and Girl who will each lead on a different value each.

Head of House will be taking assemblies next week – I'm sure they will have lots of exciting ways to share with students of how to contribute towards their House points! Remember it is a close call at this stage and every point you can earn for your house, will count to the end of the academic year, when our final winners will be announced!

Enjoy your weekend and see you Monday for another busy week!

Learn together, lead together.
