

NEWSLETTER 6 FRIDAY 13TH OCTOBER 2023

WEEK 6

Can you believe that we are 75% through the first half term of the 23/24 academic year! We always seem to fit such a lot into 5 days and this week has been no different! Here is a glimpse of some of our highlights this week!

JLA OUT & ABOUT

This week our Year 12 Business and Travel & Tourism students braved the rain and were out and about at the popular resort, Alton Towers. Students were able to talk to members of staff to help understand how they give excellent customer service as well as how Alton Towers use the recruitment process in order to employ the best possible staff. The purpose of this trip is to assist students in preparing for their coursework and of course, students were also able to experience the thrill and spills of the business for themselves to ensure they were fully clued up about about the different types of experiences on offer to visitors and how Alton Towers cater for their different needs. By all accounts, a great day was had by all!

The PE department have had an even busier week than usual too, taking not 1 but 3 football teams from Years 7, 8 & 11 to St Thomas More for three from Years 7, 8 & 11 to St Thomas More for three inter school fixtures!

All of the teams represented our Academy with great pride and determination which Mr Taylor, Mr Allen and Mr Barron were extremely proud of. There were some fantastic individual and team performances across the three teams in very wet and difficult weather conditions. Every student who represented the Academy should be very proud of their efforts. Although the results did not go in our favour, the matches were played with great integrity and determination from every player. Well done lads!

CLASS CHARTS

Year 7 are still leading the way for positive behaviour points, well done, although, Year 11 are hot on their tails! 7NA are STILL retaining their title of form of the week too, now that is impressive!

Wow, the battle of the houses is well and truly on! Just when Orion had sneaked out on top last week, Hercules have gone and reclaimed the top spot!! Congratulations Hercules!! See your Heads of House for more information of how you can contribute to your House total. Every point counts!

If you haven't already, please can I urge all parents and carers to download the Class Charts app so you can join us in congratulating your child on the positive choices they are making during school time.
