

Joseph Leckie Academy

Religious Education Transition Activity

RE - World Faiths

Opinions: When studying religion, you will be asked to express your own opinion - what you think - in your work. When we study different topics, you will likely find that your opinion will be different to other students in the class.

Task 1: In the space below, write a short comment on why is it important to respect the opinions of others in your class?

World Faiths: We look at a wide variety of religions at Joseph Leckie Academy.

Task 2: can you complete the below table on the six world faiths?

	Buddhism	Christianity	Hinduism	Islam	Judaism	Sikhism
Places of worship
Religious founder
How many followers worldwide
Interesting fact

Stories: In religions teachings are often conveyed in stories. They are easy to understand, pass on and share within communities.

Task 3: Select one of the five concepts below to create, develop, illustrate a story, which shows an understanding of your chosen concept in a religious context:

- forgiveness
- gratitude
- loving kindness
- mercy
- truth

You can use the space below.

Have fun, we look forward to you sharing your findings and work with us in September.
